

Guelph campus technology programs suffer from negative image: Gross

By Brian Williams

Difficulties in convincing students that technology programs are not just a way to escape their present and suffering to escape problems in the future, said David Gross, vice president of marketing and communications relations for Conestoga College.

According to a list of professionals in the technology industry, the number of people entering the field has increased significantly in the last few years. This has led to a shortage of people entering the field, and a shortage of people entering the field.

According to the same professionals, the number of people entering the field has increased significantly in the last few years. This has led to a shortage of people entering the field, and a shortage of people entering the field.

There will be a shortage of people entering the field.

According to the same professionals, the number of people entering the field has increased significantly in the last few years. This has led to a shortage of people entering the field, and a shortage of people entering the field.

According to the same professionals, the number of people entering the field has increased significantly in the last few years. This has led to a shortage of people entering the field, and a shortage of people entering the field.

SPOKE

Conestoga College, Monday, Aug. 15, 1988

Copper stolen from Detweiler Centre

By Marie K. Macdonald

Police are not investigating but reports of a theft of $100-$150 worth of copper from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

Photo by Marie K. Macdonald

Lance McDermott is seen in the photo above.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

From this...

Photo by Wendy Courtenay

Construction has begun at Tall Pines child-care centre

To this...

Photo by Wendy Courtenay

Construction under way at Tall Pines child-care centre

By Wendy Courtenay

Construction is under way at the Tall Pines child-care centre, a new facility for the Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

Machine vandalized

By Lance Courtenay

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

According to the police, the copper was stolen from the Detweiler Centre in Conestoga College's Dams campus.

INSIDE

Be prepared: Conestoga of...
A new look: Conestoga...
A new look: Conestoga...

A new look: Conestoga...
A new look: Conestoga...

An artist's impression of the Tall Pines child-care centre

